

SCAG EARTHQUAKE PREPAREDNESS INITIATIVE

BUILDING SAFETY

INFRASTRUCTURE REINFORCEMENT

ECONOMIC RESILIENCE

The Southern California Association of Governments (SCAG) in partnership with the Dr. Lucy Jones Center for Science and Society and the City of Ventura invite you to participate in an all-day, hands on workshop to provide your city with the tools to assess, mitigate and prepare for the disruption of a major earthquake.

SCAG's Earthquake Preparedness Initiative seeks to help local cities and counties protect Southern California communities, develop seismic strengthening policies and build coalitions throughout the region.

WORKSHOP INFORMATION

Build Your City's Resilience to Earthquakes

Wednesday
June 14, 2017
8:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

City of Ventura
Community Meeting Room
501 Poli Street
Ventura, CA 93002

The goals of the workshop include:

- Develop a framework to address local vulnerabilities related to earthquakes
- Provide a toolkit to support efforts in achieving results/taking action in a reasonable timeframe
- Share strategies to build, establish, and/or enhance community-wide partnerships for this effort

In order to achieve these goals and develop a proper framework to address your city's vulnerabilities related to earthquakes, each city should be prepared to send three representatives consisting of (a) an elected official, (b) a building official and (c) a city manager or public safety official.

RSVP is required. To RSVP and for more information, please contact Javiera Cartagena at cartagena@scag.ca.gov or (213) 236-1980.

Additional updates on the workshop and presentations from previous seminars are available at: www.scag.ca.gov/EarthquakePreparedness
